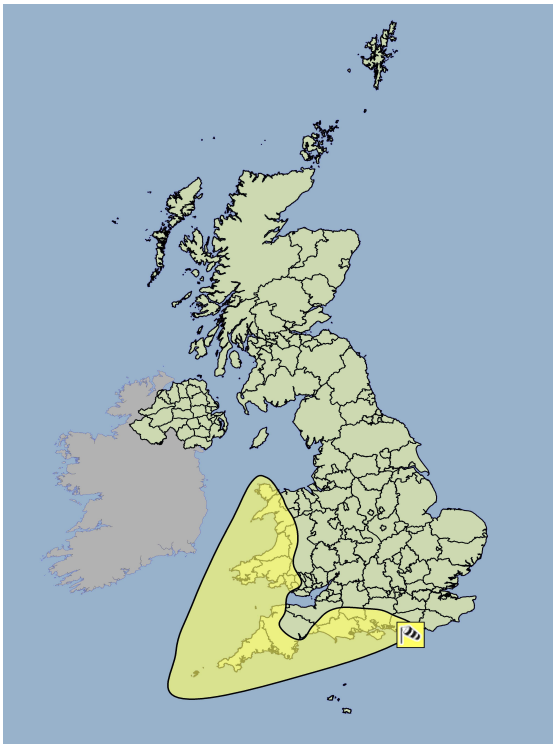
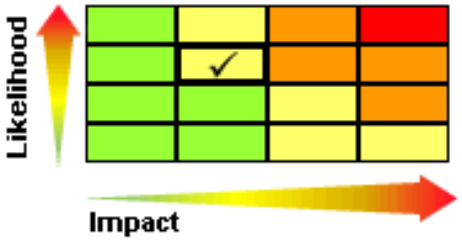
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An active frontal system will move eastwards across the UK during Sunday night and Monday. Very strong south to southwesterly winds will develop, with gusts of 60-70 mph possible within the area of the Alert and a low probability of gusts reaching 80 mph at exposed locations in the Isles of Scilly, west Cornwall and west Wales.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Wind

Valid from 00:05 on Mon, 30th Dec 2013 until 10:00 on Mon, 30th Dec 2013

South to southwesterly gales and locally severe gales will develop across west Wales and parts of southwest and southern England during the early hours of Monday, easing from the west later on Monday morning.

The public should be aware of the risk of disruption to travel, particularly as the gales will be combined by heavy rain (see separate Alert).
